Hillcrest began anew this year. A Senior Class was added to her halls. The Seniors felt that they were special. They were . . . They were the first in a line of many to climb the twelve rung ladder to graduation. The first graduating class . . . They had seen Hillcrest grow and had taken part in her growth.

Our school inherited many characteristics from her students. The friendliness and spirit of Hillcrest was a reflection of the friendliness and high spirit of her students. This year had made a welcomed change in the growth of Hillcrest.

When the Senior Class begins taking final exams, turning in books, and bringing the year to a close, the members will realize that it is not what they will leave in the thoughts of Hillcrest that is important, but it is what Hillcrest High School has given to them . . . maturity in education.

What is KNOWLEDGE?

HARD WORK

ENJOYMENT

RESPONSIBILITY

Thoughts of the past and of the future mingle in the minds of the seniors. Why didn't I study harder? Will I be a success? What does the future hold for me?

Four Well-Spent Years: A Dedication

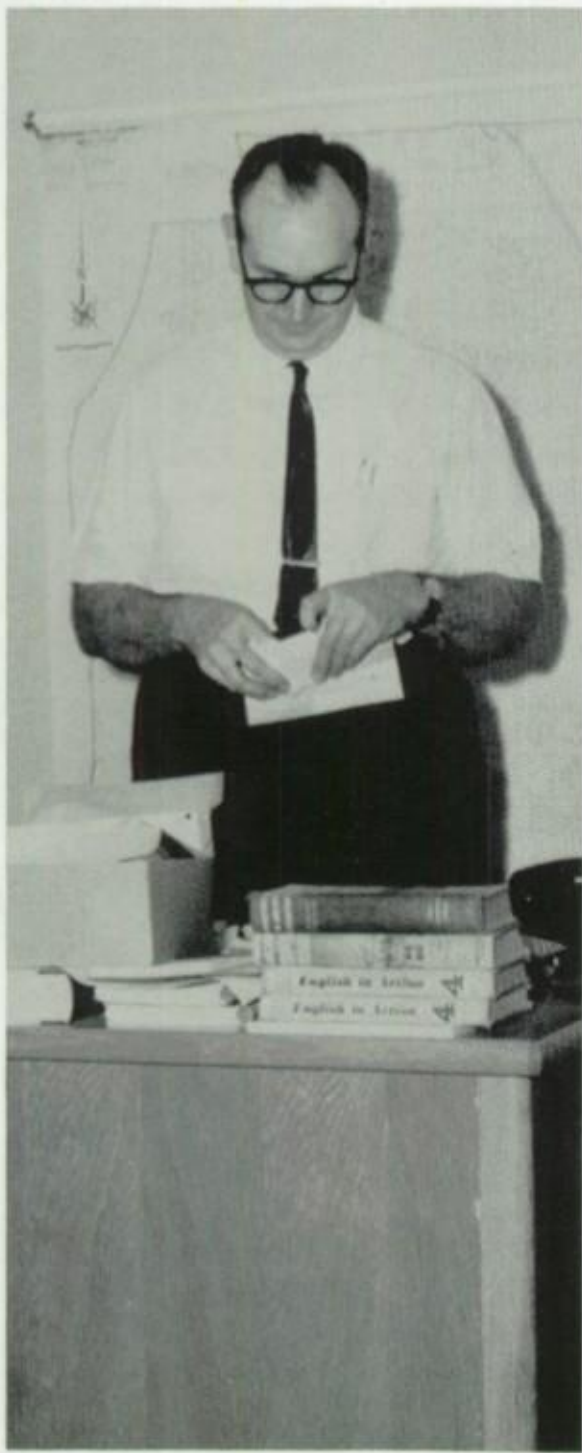

Four years have passed since the first graduating class of Hillcrest High School started making history. Since that time the class has matured and crossed many milestones. Now in 1966 the class is gathering the honors of being seniors. With this year have come the class rings, a senior prom, the first school campaign for class officers, and a senior Who's Who. Thus, for all of the "firsts" that this class has brought to Hillcrest, the annual staff dedicates this Valhalla to the Hillcrest Senior Class of 1966.

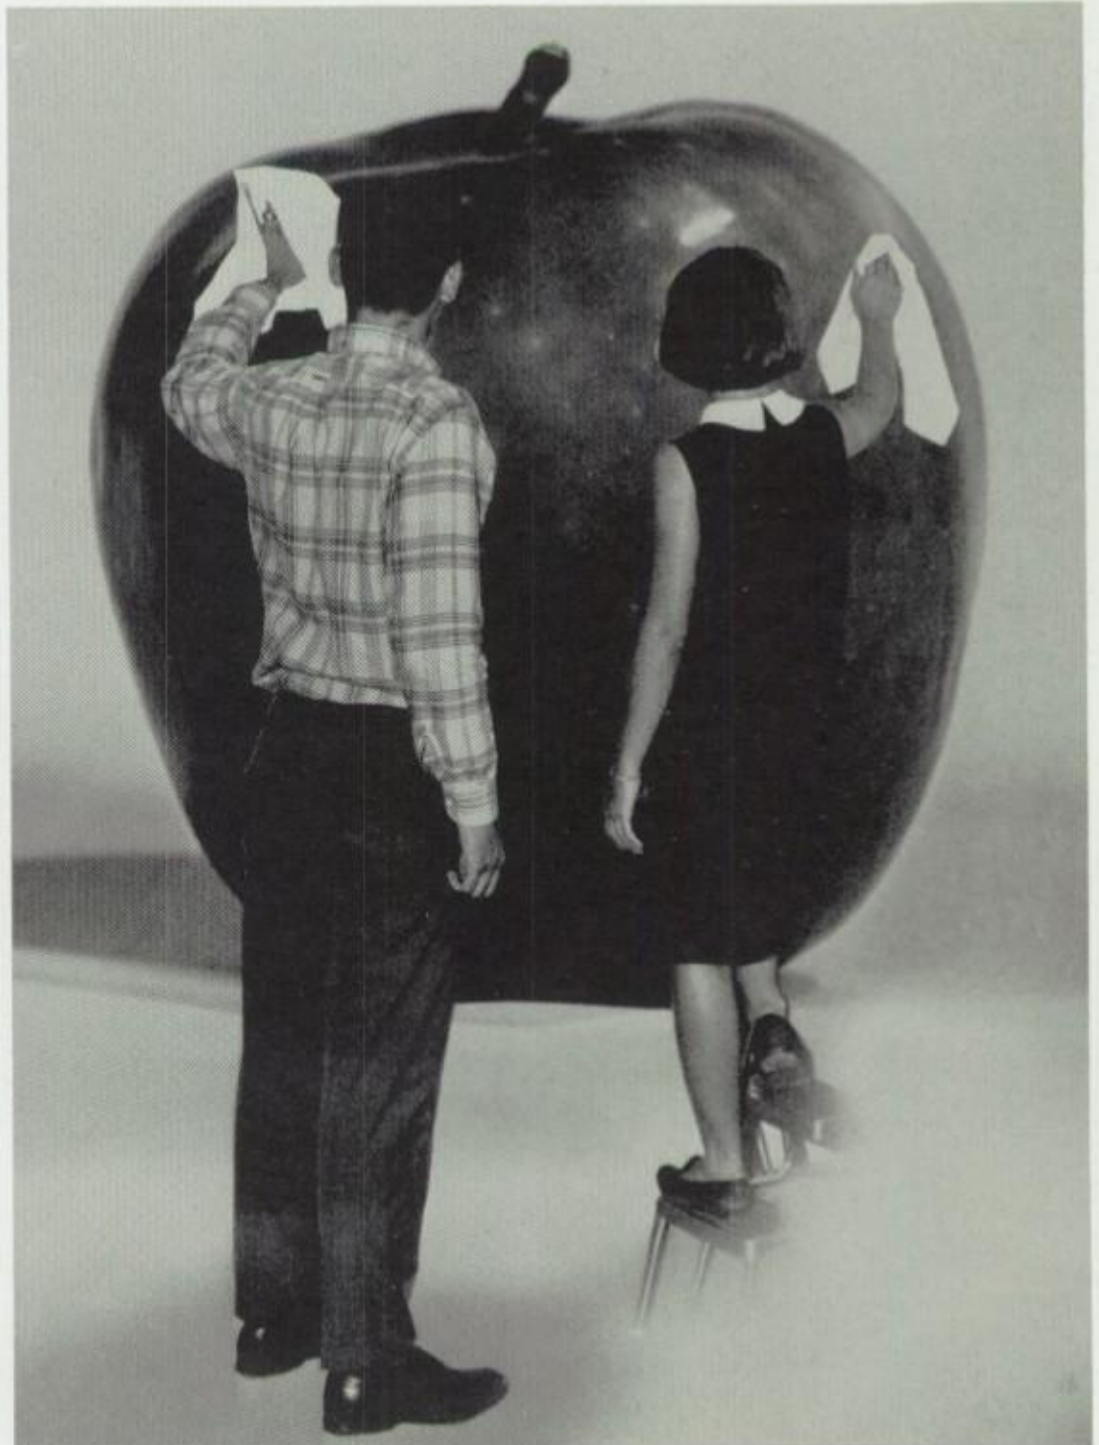

When class rings arrived in September, the seniors felt that they had truly "arrived." The rings became a symbol of four years of hard work.

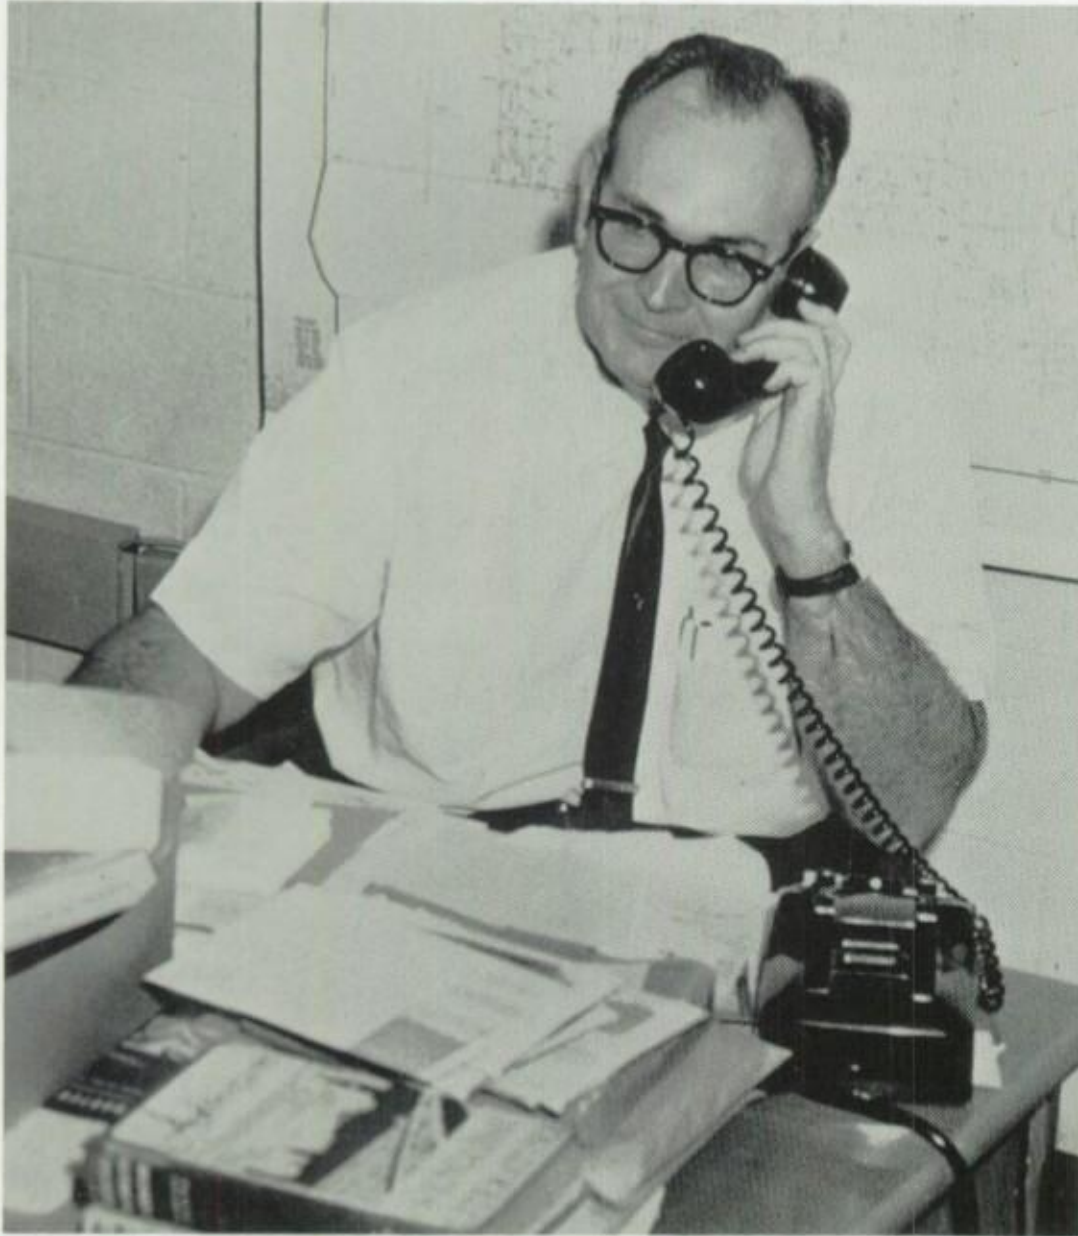

The footsteps made by this class will be difficult to fill. Where they go in the future remains to be seen.

Faculty

Our Administration Was Enlarged in 1965.

MR. WILLIAM R. KESSLER

Mr. Kessler's is a thankless job as principal . . . keeping 1400 students under control, yet happy . . . long hours, but not enough time to do all the jobs that need done . . . conferences with parents and students . . . the hardest job of all: the student evaluations . . . leading the school in its evaluation for accreditation . . . busy, but always ready to help . . . at the end of a frustrating day, a smile and a word of appreciation from a student makes him sure that his is the most rewarding of jobs.

MR. THOMAS W. CONNER

Onto the capable shoulders of Mr. Conner fall varied responsibilities . . . the ever-present problem of discipline . . . the seemingly mountainous stack of paperwork . . . guidance in many areas . . . working out the flaws in class scheduling . . . assembly programs . . . organization of clubs . . . all these and more test the ability of Hillcrest's new assistant principal . . . and the test results are excellent.

Office Duties Are Both Work and Fun.

Without an elevator the hand-rail is quickest.

Typing announcements and answering the phone, MRS. BROWN, secretary, is always busy.

"Time to get absentee slips again?"

"Let's go get the absentee slips now... Will one of you answer the phone for me?... Yes, Ma'am, we'll see that he gets his tennis shoes before P. E. class... This note goes to the teachers only... Get this announcement around before the end of the period... Go tell MRS. STAFFORD she's wanted on the telephone immediately... It's hard work, but it's worth it..."

MRS. KESSLER, school secretary, bemoans the fact that none of that money is hers.

Shakespeare's popping out all over... JULIUS CAESAR, HAMLET, MACBETH, as well as his poetry... Charles Dickens' era of suspense and mystery... SILAS MARNER, a moving and heartwarming story of a child's love... those endless sentences to diagram... "Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears!"... "The theme will be due next Wednesday; it must be from three hundred to five hundred words long... in ink, on one side of the page"... "American Literature projects due in three weeks"... "How's the term paper?"

Guidance

The guidance office... a busy, bustling place... students signing up for new courses... inspecting college catalogues... finding out the latest on job opportunities... talking to Mrs. Canestrari about grades, scholarships, and colleges... the assistants are busy in different ways... planning schedules... corresponding with colleges... preparing transcripts... working with the administration... in all ways helping the student body get the most out of high school and the future that they can.

Students make use of guidance facilities while preparing for college.

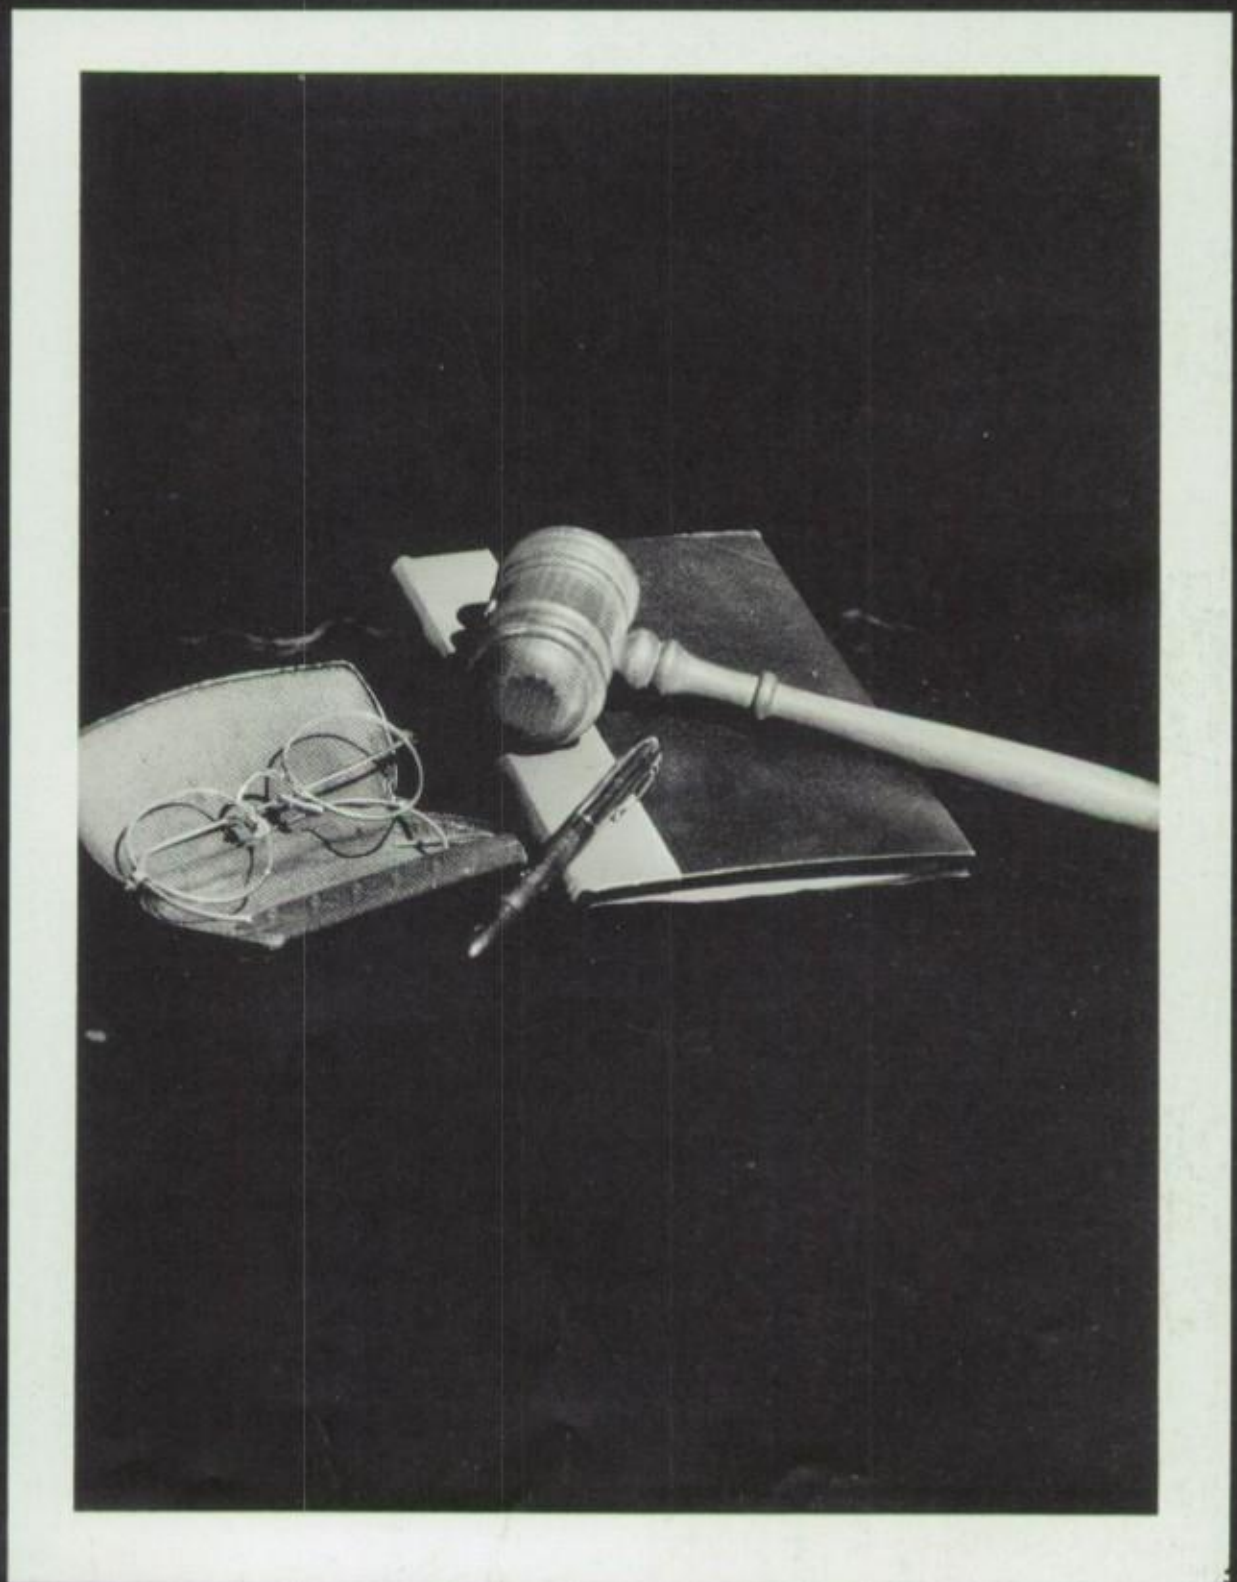

Mrs. Canestrari tends to the many tasks she has.

Organizations

Panic... Didn't you sell those ads? What Ads? Be sure to tell the photographer to take the club's pictures outside... Where are those copy sheets?... Panic!... Who's got the write-up on that?... We've got sixteen pages due in three days... Panic!... Look! We've left out six freshmen... Surely those pictures for the football section didn't just walk away... Panic!... Check the spelling on the names to be sure its right..... Panic... We made the deadline!!

The Valhalla's advisors, Mrs. Beck and Miss White, are valuable members of the staff.

Gary Harlan is the staff's Sports Editor.

Headlines, write-ups, and captions are all the tasks of Copy Editor, Becky Obenauf.

The chief responsibility of the Valhalla's production belongs to Editor-in-Chief, Viki Cross

Business Manager Gail Swindler counts the needed money.

Organizations Editor Gaye Little and assistant Johnnie Dill draw pages.

Faculty Editor Peggy Couch and assistant Linda Brown look through pictures.

Circulation Manager Clayton Williams and assistants Lynn Fanning and Diane Cates count annual receipts.

Connie Cato and Barbara Fischer finish the ad pages due in Dallas.

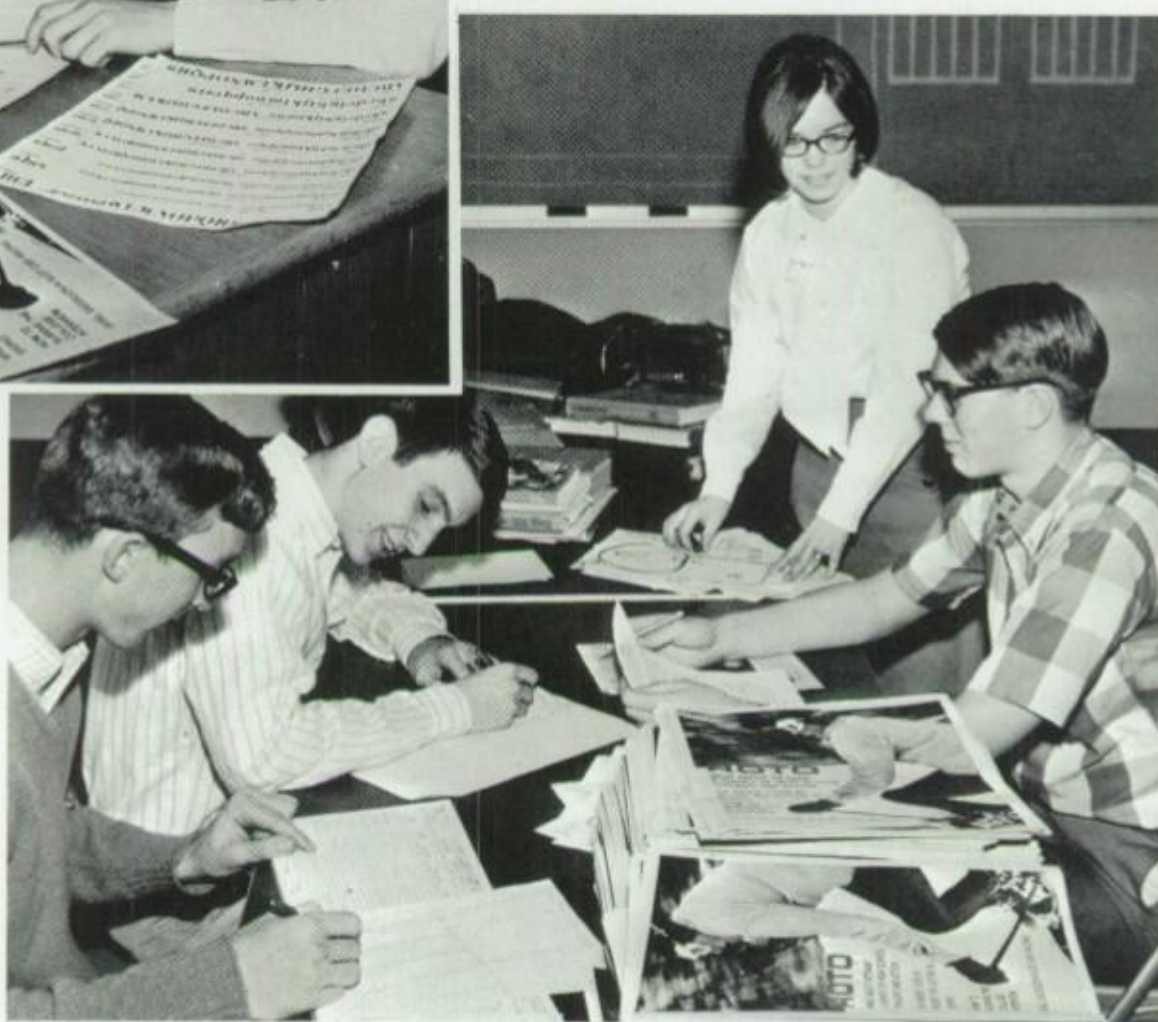

Features Editor Janie Wardell and assistant Suzanne Cook type pages for the deadline.

Valkyrie Staff Meets Deadlines

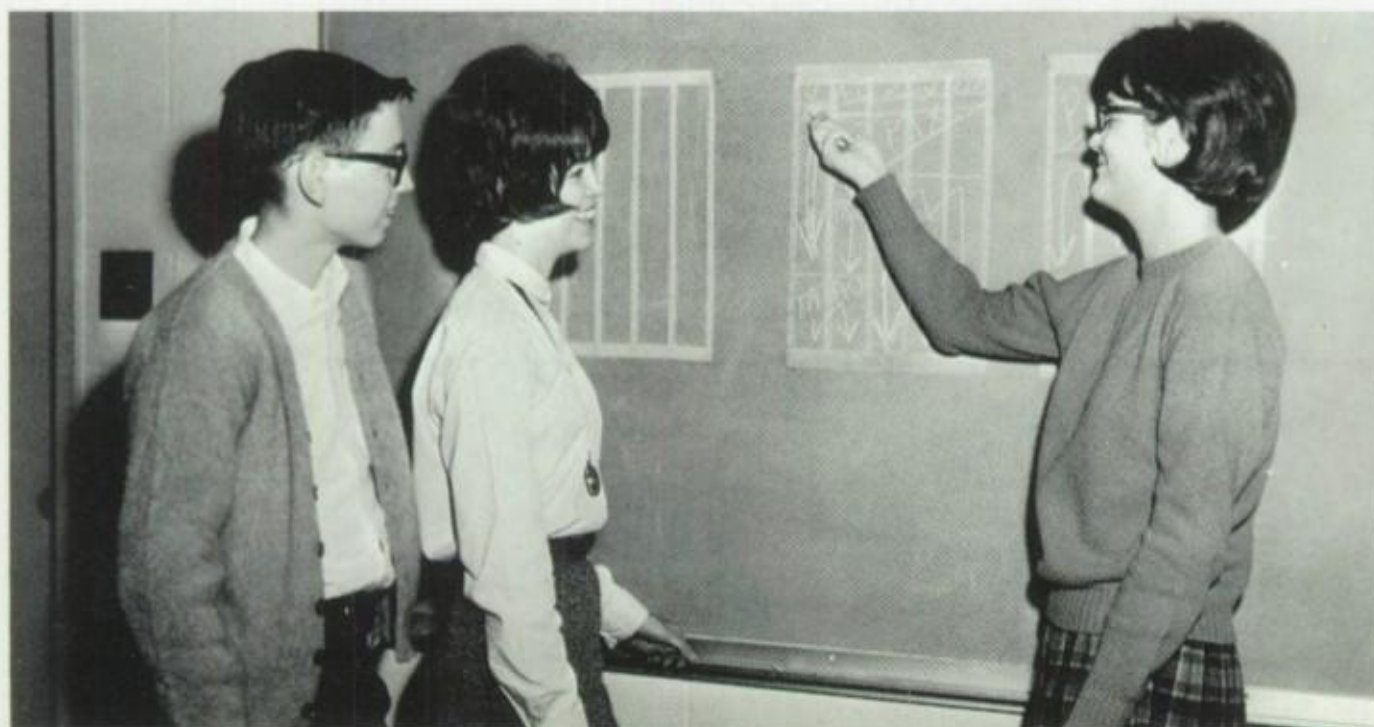

The Valkyrie staff makes good reading for other students...hard work...hours of concentration...layouts...typing...write-ups...selling papers...making profits..all make up the paper staff. Each member is an asset to the staff. Each one must help to make deadlines to the press. Journalism proves hard work and a good paper.

Editor Sandi Loden works long, hard hours preparing the paper.

Members of the Valkyrie staff discuss articles to be written up for the paper.

Layouts are very important and must be perfect before going to press.

Planning is a large part of the Valkyrie's job.

Layouts are handled by all members .

Preparation for the sale of the paper is an all staff project.

The members' talent makes the Valkyrie the success it is.

Success! A large sale of the Valkyrie.

Through the support of the French Club little George Xenokalakis of Greece has hope for a happy, healthy future.

The French Club's own pride and joy, George, its foster child across the sea in Greece...how hard the effort to get him...huge boxes of candy to be sold at lunch...slowly, slowly the money comes in...and finally, the letter, and the child...exciting programs...fascination with Patrice..."Le Petit Chaperon Rouge" complete with wolf...Bastille Day...Mardi Gras...the feast of feasts...and ever present, the desire to draw closer to the life of the French...

French Club officers are Donna Hanna, Janie Wardell, Vicki Creed, Bill Carkeet, and Phil Woodall.

Members of the French Club increase their knowledge through outside reading.

French Club Fosters Child . . .

Spanish Club

Promoting interest in Spanish as a way of life... as a language speakers are asked to the meetings to further the interest...

Through entertaining and informative programs the Spanish Club learns much about Spain and Mexico.

With the help of Spanish Club sponsor, Mrs. Parotte, members soon learn the important accents necessary in correct pronunciation.

The Spanish Club makes use of the language lab.

Explores Mexico

Spanish Club members learn about America's Spanish speaking neighbor, Mexico.

A learning of the geography of Mexico... learning of the people... learning of the culture... a knowledge of the language...
all make up the club.

Spanish Club officers are Bettye Lawrence, Sally Adams, Karen Rose, and Dick Lewis.

Interesting programs highlight Spanish Club meetings.

Science Clubs Explore Universe

From the atom to infinity in four short years...first, the preparatory general science...biology follows, with its complexities in the world of the living ...then chemistry and physics, where the hows and whys of the non-living are explained...unquestionably fascinating...

The Chemistry section of the Science Club is headed by Mr. Summers.

Club Studies Science

Knowledge of science and its complexities

...the world of the living...leaf collections

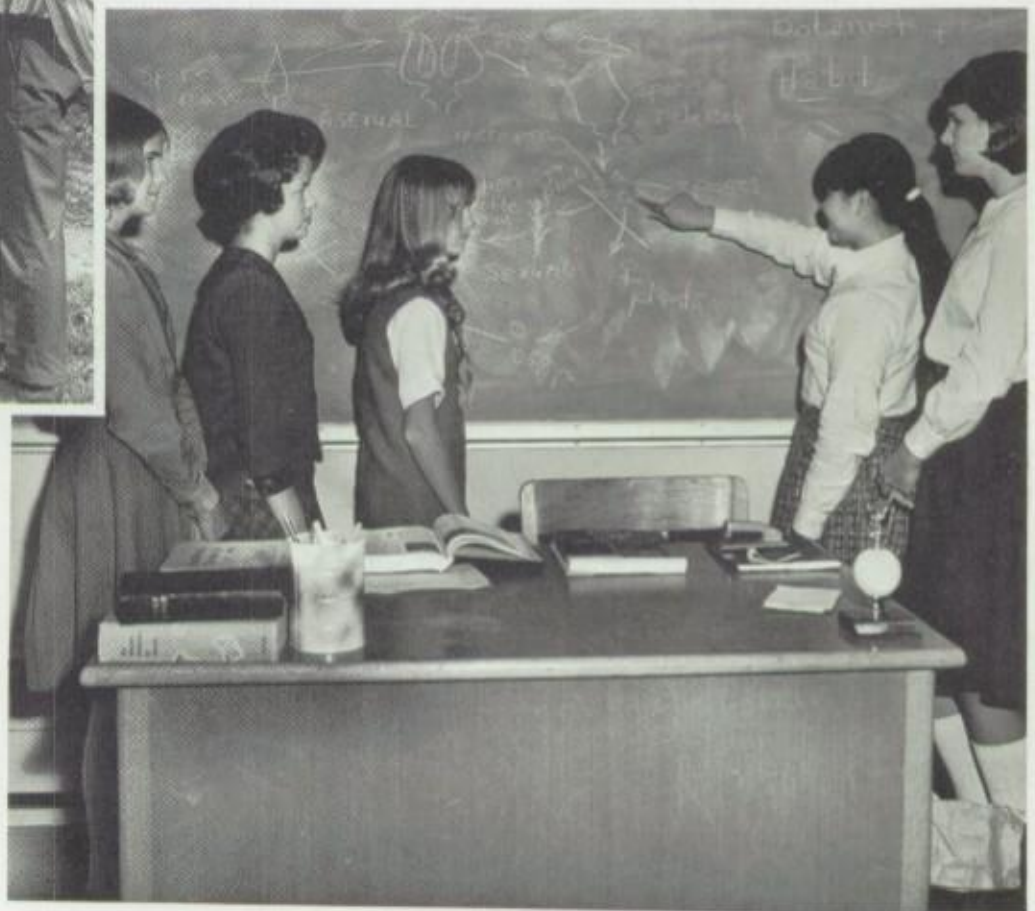

...bug collections...microscopic views...

experiments...club discussions...an understanding of science is learned here...

Members of the Science Club learn about the leaves for collections.

Reproduction is a studied topic of the Science Club members of the junior high.

Students who make up the club learn of the things that make up life.

Y-Teens Sponsor Projects . . .

The Senior Y-Teens is one of the largest clubs in the school.

Club members enjoy many activities.

The largest division of the Y-Teens . . . the juniors and seniors of Hillcrest make up this club . . . a club for exciting projects . . . profitable activities . . . money making activities . . . selling donuts on the buses in the afternoon . . . dances . . . parties . . . support in school sponsored projects . . . a willingness to serve . . . and a challenging goal for the future . . .

Y-Teens officers are Beth Caldwell, Connie Huckaby, Linda Czuba, Linda Breazeale, and Barbara Fisher.

Junior Y Teens Enjoy Activities —

Junior Y-Teens sponsor many interesting activities.

Enjoyment is the keynote... emphasis is on friendship and fun... speakers on varied subjects keep members up to date in these areas ... money is donated each year as a gift to the school... there are dances and parties, which are very popular... the sale of potato chips is a regular project... a service to the school and a great opportunity for the members.

Members of the Y-Teens...

Interesting programs are enjoyed by club members.

Officers are leaders.

Band Inspires Unparalleled

The long awaited dream has become a reality: Hillcrest has a band. Its first appearance at a pep rally in September gave it instant popularity and the beginning of success. Long hours of repetitions and practice, the drills and scales, make up the band of today.

Officers of the band are potential leaders.

Mr. Terry poses with potential members of the band.

The band in action:

The High School Band is a credit to Hillcrest.

School Spirit

Time out during band practice...

Success came to the band after days of disappointments and perhaps even despair... all these things have been worthwhile to all concerned... on the other end of the scale, the music had to be memorized, tunes to be learned, and time to practice... the practice that makes perfect...

The Junior High Band is a steadily growing organization.

Skill depends heavily on long hours of practice.

Chorus Plans Programs

The natural talent of chorus members is brought out and developed in many ways.

Operas...singing...practice for assemblies...hard work...hours of memorizing words to songs...notes to be sung in the right key...a trip on a float at Christmas time ...performances for the King's Daughters...a group of students interested in the welfare of the school and its singing programs...

A light side to the activities of the chorus: a trip to the opera.

Chorus members practice constantly and the results of their efforts are a pleasure to hear.

Art Students Continue to Grow in Skill.

Relaxed, informal atmosphere...the common ability and interest in art...the excellent leadership of the sponsor...all these join to make the club something beyond the ordinary classroom...understanding and knowledge in depth...art from ancient to modern...foundations are laid in the classroom, and here they are built upon...the result - a unique experience.

Scenes such as this are common in Art Club meetings.

Engrossed members concentrate on a tricky technique.

Miss Weaver helps a student achieve the right effect.

Chess Proves a Brain Teaser

One of the newest clubs... a growing club... interest grows in the game of chess... a game that calls for concentration... knowledge... interest... hours of fun... a club that will go a long way in the years to come.... a knowledge of knights, queens, bishops, and many other well-known expressions...

"Check" is a frequently heard expression.

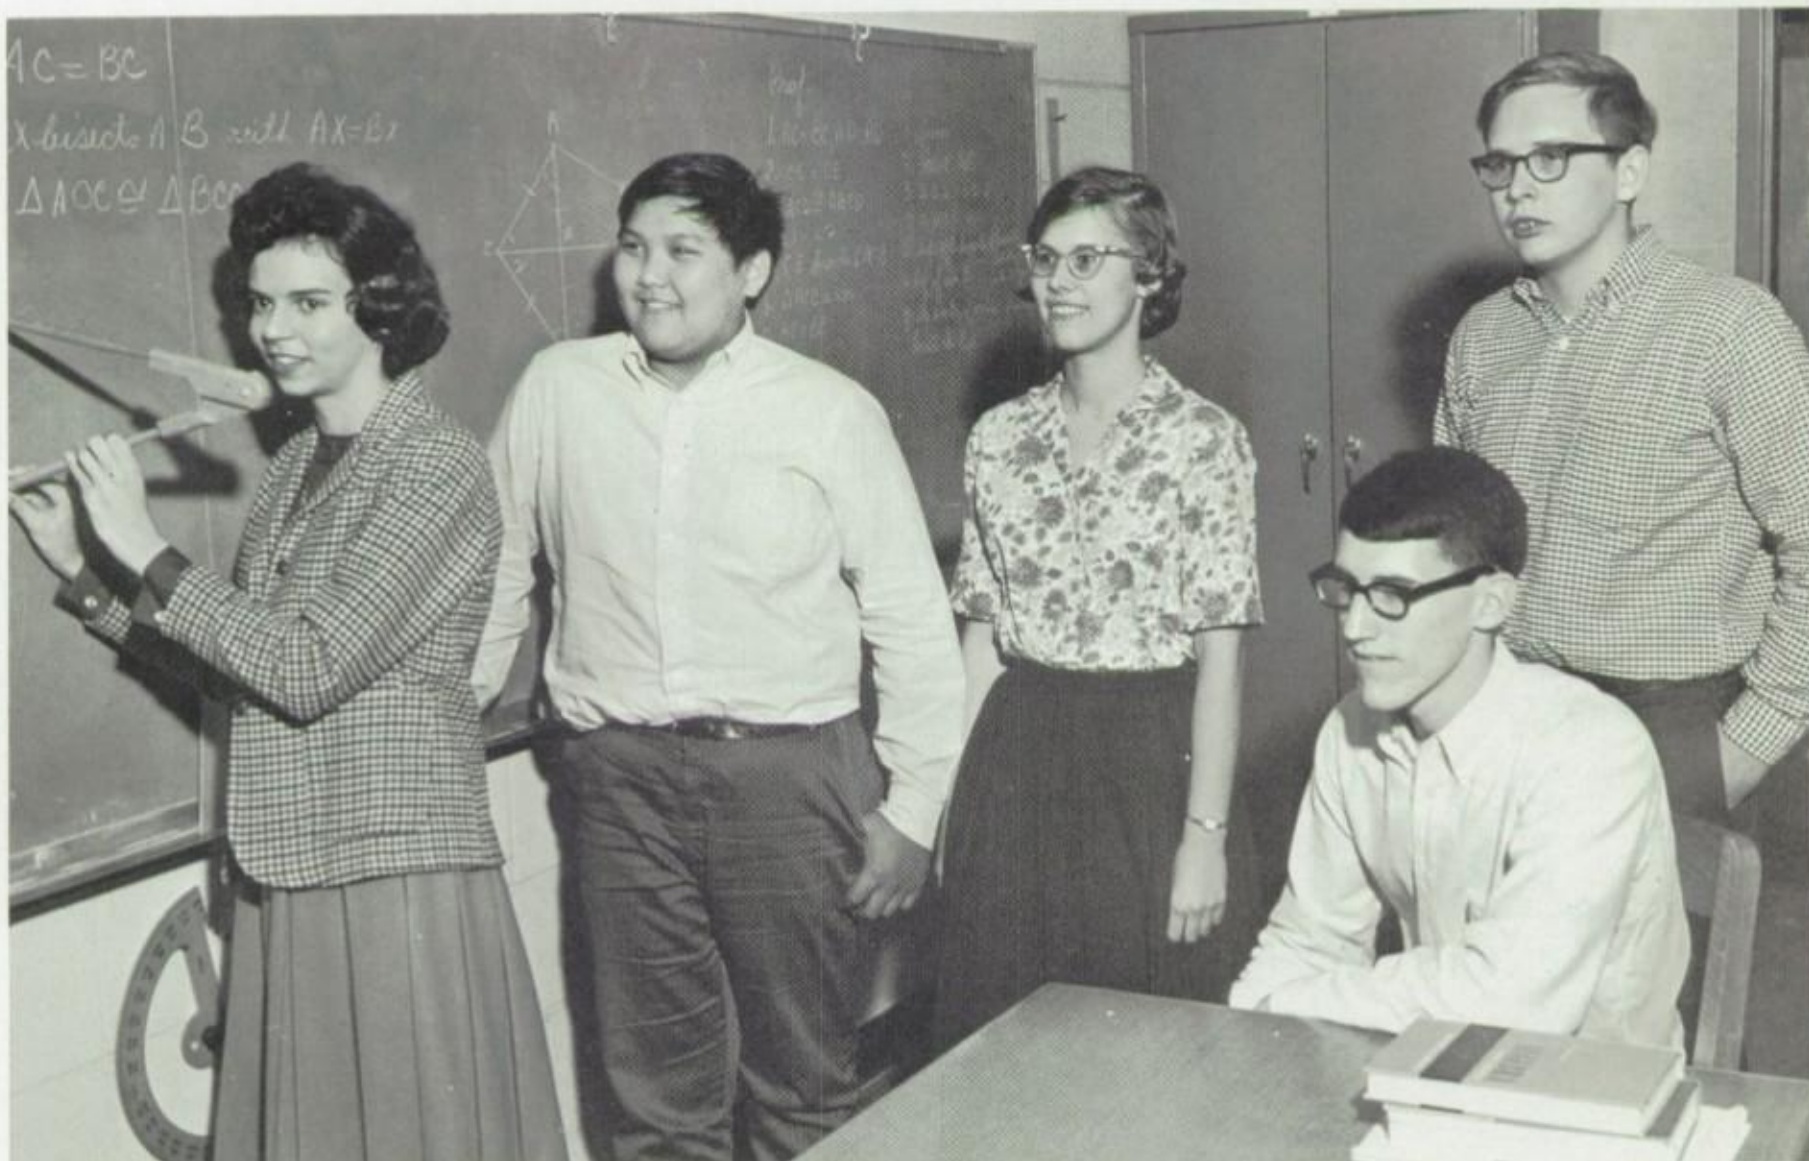

The Chess Club officers are club's first officers.

Led by Mr. Westmoreland, the Chess Club seeks to improve skill in the game.

Math Proves Challenging

A time tested method... a new twist... the result: new math... exploring that new twist and new methods is the Math Club's purpose... number systems... math puzzlers... the geometry of pop and op art... all blended together to make knowledge and much enjoyment...

Promoting interest in math through understanding is the Math Club's main goal.

Heading the math club are the officers Drew Nicholas, Becky Obenauf, and Toni Traylor.

Club Goes "Around the World"

A desire to broaden one's horizons... see the world... meet people from all countries... Social Studies Club members hold all these dreams... in meetings they can enjoy the activities of trips... deep conflicts are seen and understood... topics on making stories in the United States and foreign countries... the members are well on their way to being informed citizens of tomorrow.

Officers of the Social Studies Club include Sue Hamilton, Joe Eckles, Billy Fuller, and Dwight Melton.

Club meetings hold members' interest.

A map is studied by some members.

Students Prepare for Career

Business Club officers are Jan Ragsdale, Bill Carkeet, Anita Colston, Mary Ann Sneed, and Sharon Fields.

The business world... executives... clerks... managers... secretaries... all are viewed by the Business Club... the skills that go into each... leadership... basic ability... training... experience in such fields as typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping... the opportunities are limitless... the club seeks them out... studies them... and prepares its members for their places in the future world of business...

Club members improve their skills in the typing room.

Shorthand, bookkeeping, and typing are areas explored by the Business Club.

Photographers Gain Skill in Practical Art

As all good photographers, always on the scene... football games, basketball games, pep rallies... assemblies... pictures for clubs... new development in photography... cameras... flash attachments... flash bulbs... light meters... are studied and tested ...the work done now will be useful for years to come.....

Service Club Started in Jr. High

Plans for the years to come is the chief aim for the present with the present Junior Hi Y...

eventually, a service club for the junior high... projects in the present... participation in the landscaping of the campus... club projects... varied topics for club programs... a good start with an admirable goal in mind...

The Unsung Heroes of the School

The office assistants spend much of their time behind the counter.

The jobs of these guidance and office assistants may seem small...but they prove the saying, "the best things come in small packages"...the little things that save so much time...answering the telephone...collecting absentee slips...recording tardy lists, absentee lists, and checkout lists...delivering messages...using the ditto machines for teachers...the untiring assistants perform an indispensable service to the school...

The guidance assistants browse through material available in the guidance office.

Students show a variety of materials used in the guidance office.

Safety Patrol Insures Safety

Boys instructed to help students cross the streets...to control traffic in bad and good weather...insuring safety to and from school...faithful to their responsibilities... hard workers...seriousness in their job...

Insuring student safety are Kenneth Hardin, Larry Bishop, Ronald Tate, Larry Thomason, Barry Kizer led by Mr. Richter.

Valhalla Day Established Tradition

Congratulations came to Paige Fowler from Sammy Cowan, President of the Student Advisory Council, in the form of a kiss as the Valhalla Day court watched.

Mass confusion followed the talent show as everyone rushed to congratulate the winners, The Imperials.

Comfort was the aim of students on this day of days.

Who's Who

BETTYE LAWRENCE

Bettye's outgoing personality has won her many friends just as her cheerleading ability has boosted Hillcrest spirit. Her acting ability has gained for her the position of president of the Thespians as a junior. She is also president of the Spanish Club, and was chosen as Key Club calendar girl.

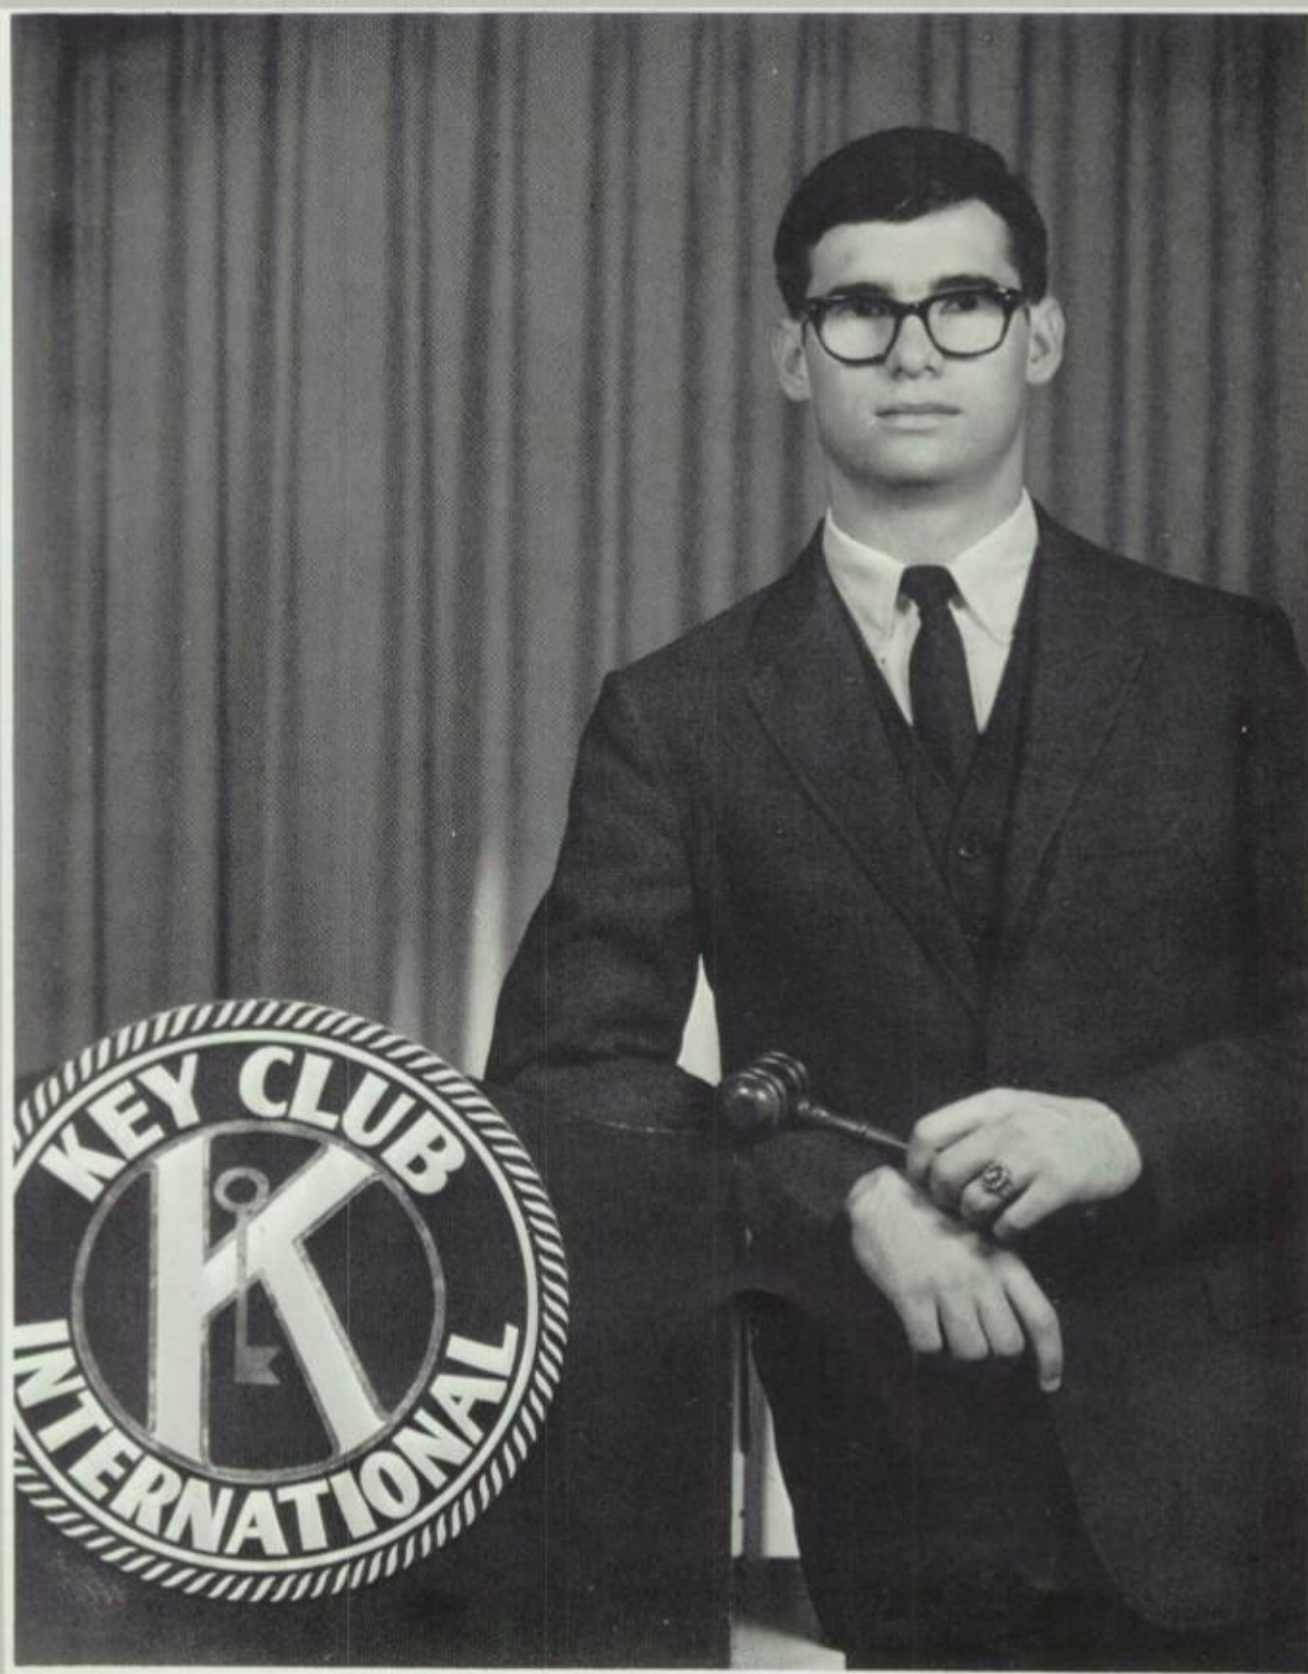

TOMMY WATSON

Tommy is well know throughout Hillcrest by faculty and his classmates because of his many contributions. This year he is president of the Student Advisory Council and the Key Club. Because of his participation in football and basketball, he is a member of the H Club.

Who's Who

SUZANNE CARGILL

Suzanne is best known for her cheerleading ability and ceaseless vitality. A vivacious senior, she is always ready to give her time and energy to the school: At the top of the list of her activities in high school is cheerleading. Being selected for four years, she has been captain for the last two years. Possibly her most exciting moments this year was being both Football and Key Club Sweethearts.

SAMMY COWAN

Sammy, an important member of Hillcrest's basketball team, is outstanding in other fields as well. He is an active participant in the Key Club and the H Club. He has had such honors as being president of organizations like Student Advisory Council, French Club and the Junior Class. He was also inducted into the National Junior Honor Society and served as a county commissioner in the City-County Junior Government.

Who's Who

ELAINE ANDERSON

An honor student, Elaine is always active in some school function. Elaine worked on the Valhalla for three years. She has served in the Student Advisory Council as secretary and in the Drama Club, Future Homemakers of America, and the French Club. This year, she was chosen as a Key Club calendar girl and secretary of the Senior Class, an activity that keeps her very busy.

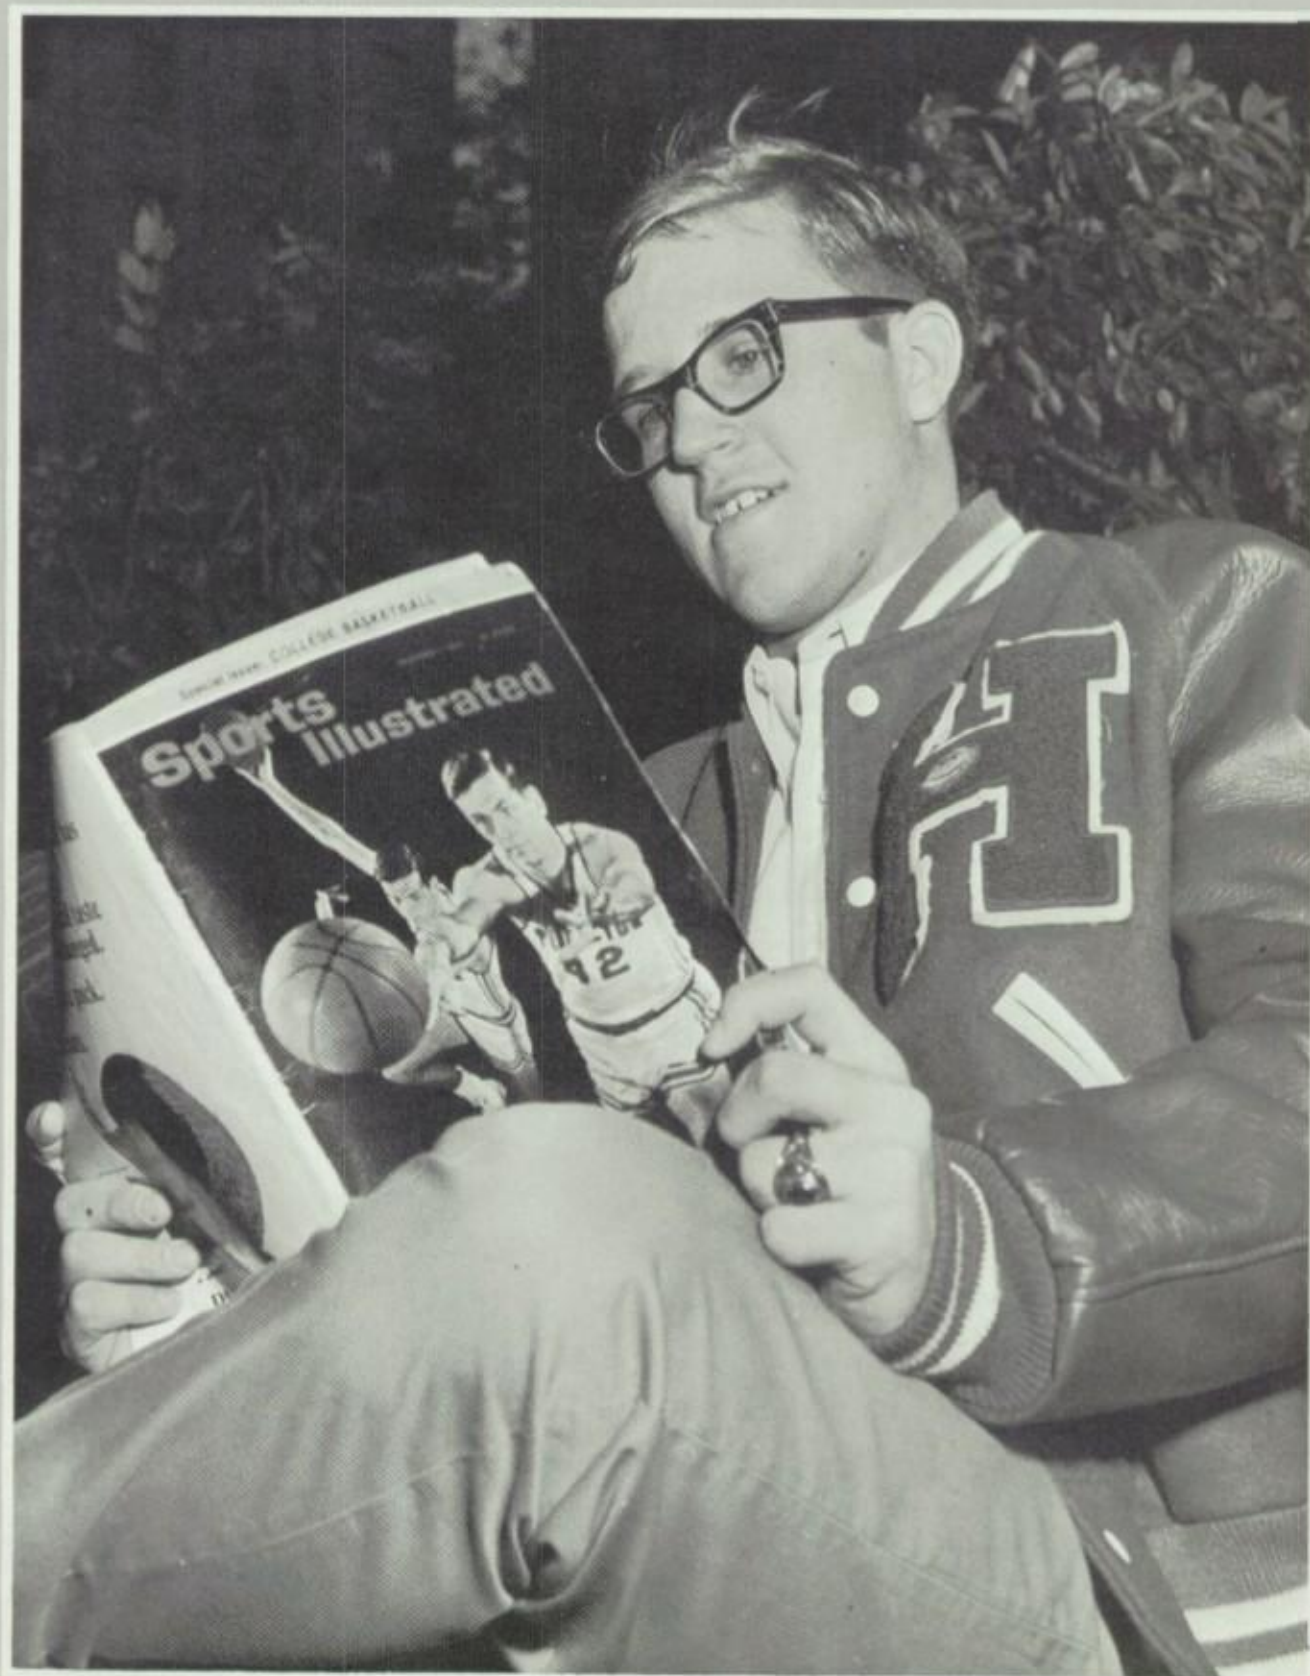

VON VERNER

Von's leadership abilities in athletics for the past four years have been shown in football, basketball, and track. He was past president of the H Club and has served as co-captain in both basketball and football. When not participating in sports, he is an active member of the Key Club. He also reigned as Thor of Valhalla Day '65.

Who's Who

SANDRA LEWIS

Sandra has appeared in almost all of Hillcrest's drama productions. Her acting ability is portrayed on stage, as well as behind the scenes. When not acting, she serves as president of the Thespians, and for two years, was president of the Hillcrest Masque and Dagger Club. She has also served in the French Club, the Student Advisory Council, and the Future Teacher's of America.

JERRY PRIESTER

Because of his diligence and hard work, Jerry received the honor of being elected Hillcrest's first senior class president. He not only shows his leadership in this office but also in the H Club, the Key Club, and the Student Advisory Council. Jerry has also played on the varsity football team for the past three years.

been with us*

The girls' sports consist of volleyball, and basketball. The team is chosen for the Y-Teen girls who are interested in competition and developing good sportsmanship. Practices, conducted by Mrs. Mary Lou Johns, are long and strenuous. The team works well and the outcome is always satisfactory. The girls' participation in sports gives them a better chance for recognition, satisfaction and meeting other girls their own age. Most of all it brings the knowledge that the sports world does not consist solely of men.

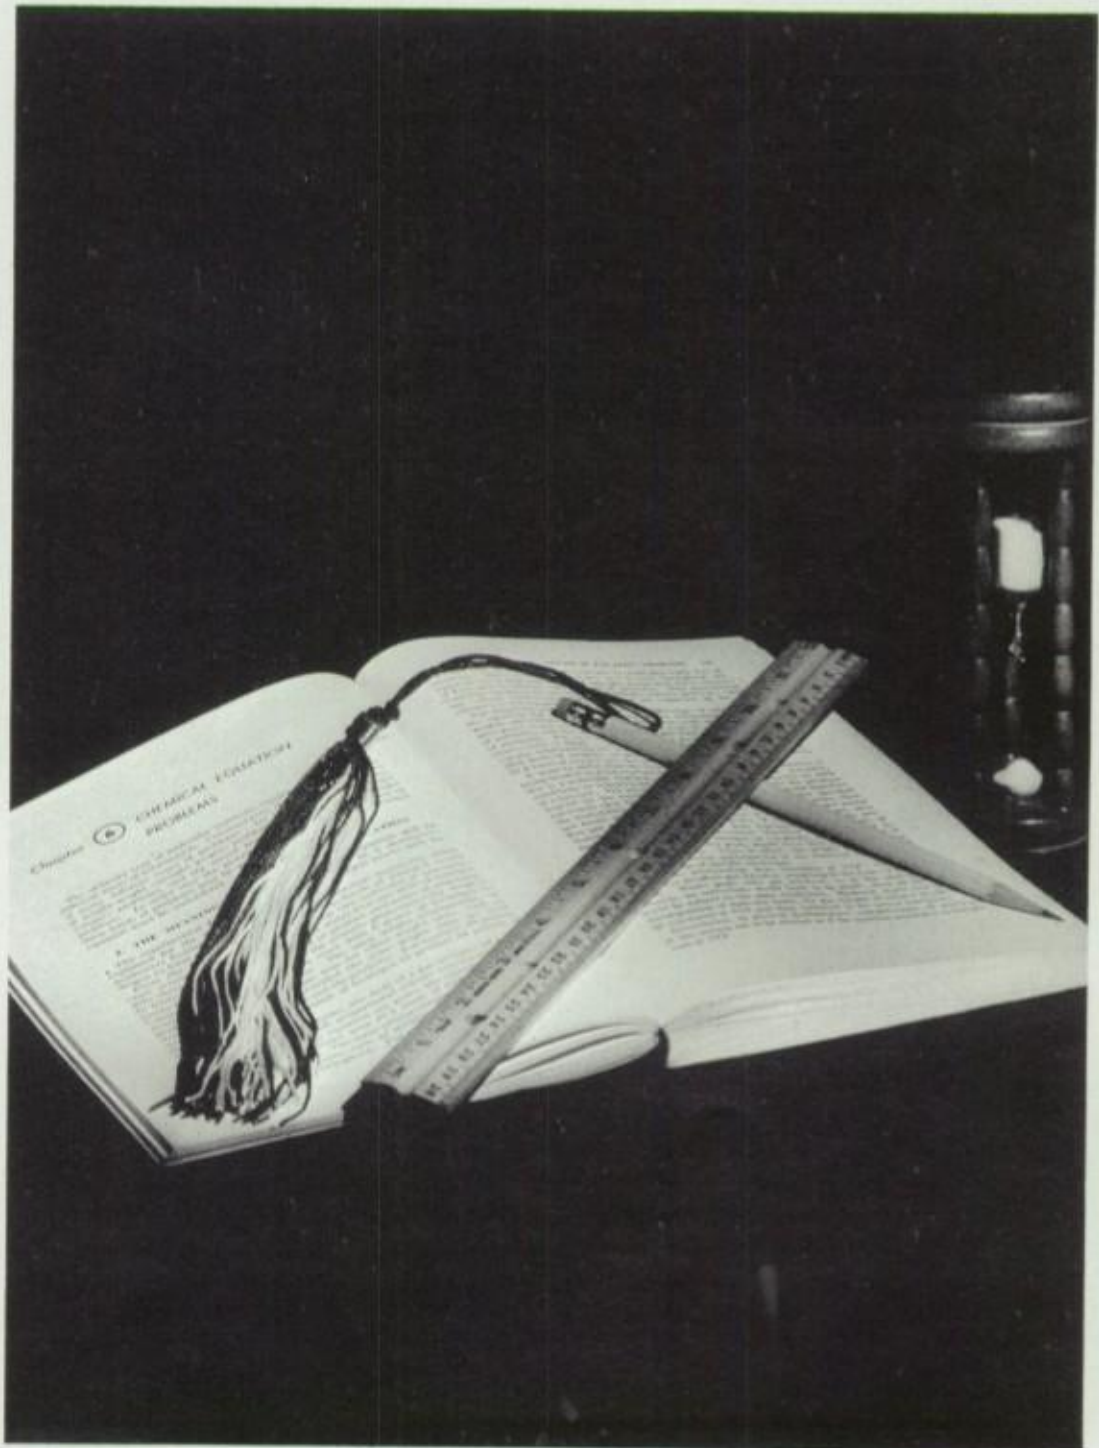

*Love you
Lynn*
